

Parity for Main Street Employers

Main Street Businesses & the Tax Cuts and Jobs Act

How Did They Fare and Where do We Go from Here?

Lunch Briefing

(Box Lunches Provided)

Tuesday, July 31st 2018

Capitol Visitors Center Room SVC 203-2

12 Noon to 1:15pm

Featuring

Senator Ron Johnson (R-WI)

Moderator

Richard Rubin

Wall Street Journal

Panelists

Bob Carroll

Quantitative Economics and Statistics, EY

Doug Holtz-Eakin

American Action Forum

Brian Reardon

S Corporation Association

How did Main Street businesses fare under the Tax Cuts and Jobs Act? The short answer is its “complicated.” They got a 20 percent deduction, but only for some industries and some businesses. To help work through the complexity, Dr. Robert Carroll will review the findings of his new EY analysis, followed by a panel discussion moderated by Richard Rubin of the Wall Street Journal. The briefing will be kicked off by Senator Ron Johnson (R-WI), who played a key role in advocating for the pass-through sector during the tax reform debate.

To RSVP, please email Christine Walizer at info@mainstreetemployers.org.